

Exploring the Gospel of Matthew

A mountain top experience

Saturday 22 November 2025

10.00am – 12.30pm (CET) online

Led by Clare Amos

During this church year which will begin with Advent 2025 the Gospel of Matthew is the main lectionary Gospel. This online study morning offers the opportunity to explore the vision of Matthew whose place as the first book in the New Testament witnesses to its key role in Christian history.

All are welcome, but it is important for people to register so that they can receive the Zoom link and background notes for the session.

Please register using this link: <https://bit.ly/4oqnrBo>

SCAN ME

Clare is an Anglican biblical scholar and teacher who until her retirement was working at the World Council of Churches with responsibility for its in Interreligious Dialogue and Cooperation. She now has the honorary role of Director for Lay Discipleship in the Church of England Diocese in Europe.